SYMPOSIUM: ONLY IN AMERICA, Thursday, 6/19 at 7:30 p.m.

This probing documentary explores the role of religious faith in Joseph Lieberman's campaign to become the first Jewish Vice President and how his Jewish identity informs his politics (dir. Ron Frank).

Following the screening Mark Halperin, political director for ABC News, will lead a discussion on faith in politics, the outcome of the 2000 election and a preview of Campaign 2004.

Playing with WE WUZ ROBBED (dir. Spike Lee)

An indelible black-and-white recounting of the night of the 2000 presidential election, from disenfranchised voters to dimpled chads.

Thursday 6/19 at 9:30 p.m., THE GAME OF THEIR LIVES

Get a rare glimpse inside N. Korea as members of the 1966 World Cup soccer team recount the greatest shock in World Cup history: beating Italy and winning the hearts of the British population whose government refused to formally recognize the nation the team represented (dir. Dan Gordon).

DROWNED OUT, Friday 6/20 at 11:00 a.m.

A village healer struggles to maintain his family's traditional way of life in the lush, gorgeous valleys of central India as he battles the Indian government to stop the construction of a dam which threatens thousands of homes and generations of history (dir. Franny Armstrong).

Friday 6/20 at 4:30 p.m. & Sunday 6/22 at 5:00 p.m., POWER TRIP

As the former Soviet Republic of Georgia transitions into a free-market society, an enterprising American power company gets caught in the middle as the corrupt government controls who gets power first (dir. Paul Devlin).

RUN SOME IDIOT, Friday 6/20 at 9:15 p.m.

Shot during the 2000 campaign season, RUN SOME IDIOT chronicles the hilarious efforts of one unknown everyman, with no money and no political connections, in his bid to capture the White House. Be sure not to miss cameos from the likes of Mary Matalin, Mark Russel, John McCain, Mike Dukakis, Al Gore, and George W. himself (dir. Jim Taylor).
